DELAYED JUMP

We were hit by flak over the target and I was slightly wounded in both hands. I was the first to leave the ship, at about 15,000 feet, and delayed my jump. I spilled my chute to avoid flak guns in a field and landed hard in a clearing in the woods nearby. Some Frenchmen picked me up and took me into the woods. They gave me

STARTS S

After about three hours, although I could scarcely walk, I started S by compass. Shortly after I started out and while I was talking to some Frenchmen three truckloads of Germans drove by evidently searching for me. They paid no attention to me while the Frenchmen said "Bonjour" to them. For the first two days I kept well off the roads and stayed in the woods as much as possible.

29 APRIL

HELPED

That night I slept in the woods and almost froze. The next morning I saw a Frenchman in the woods. When he did not approach me I went up to him and tried to ask him which direction was S. I could not speak any French, and he simply walked away. Soon I ran into the man again, and he took me into the woods with two other men. They looked at my maps and gave me water. When they realized who I was and after they had discovered that I was a Catholic they gave me a note to a priest and directed me to a town where I could find him.

SEARCH PARTY

I circled the little town ahead of me, following roads as they instructed me, for they said that the roads were quite safe. Later I realized that it would have been better to have kept off the roads, for my resistance friends said that the Germans had men out looking for me. For some time they were just three or four kilometers behind; one town they entered about four hours after I had left it. I kept on the roads following my directions and going through villages until I lost my way. It was almost dark when I reached my destination. I stopped the first elderly man I saw, for my previous helpers had suggested that it was best to keep away from younger persons, and asked him how to find the priest. This man's wife directed me to the door. A priest appeared and I handed him the note. After he read it he was evidently frightened and said, "Au revoir". I could not explain what I wanted, and, since I could see that he was not a friend, I left. I was quite hungry by this time, having lived off my escape rations, so I approached another elderly man and indicated that I was hungry and sleepy and had a bad back. He gave me some bread and took me to a house on the outskirts of town where he put me to bed with the horses.

HELPED

The next day a boy bicycled with me to a farm, where I was given the first real meal that I had had in three days. I was put to bed and told to rest. After two days I was in a hurry to be off to Spain, so early in the morning I started out without telling my helpers that I was leaving. I walked for the next day and a half, staying off all main roads, not entering any towns, and sleeping in the woods.

JOURNEY ARRANGED

About 1600 the second day the young man who had taken me to the farm caught up with me, frantic that I had left. He and his friends had searched all over for me. I rode with him on a second bicycle which he brought with him and went back to the farm. I pointed out how anxious I was to get to Spain, but he and his friends insisted that I stay and stressed that they could help me. Later I was taken to a place from which my journey was arranged.

APPENDIX "B" TO E&E REPORT NO 866

1. The following information has been obtained from an officer who evaded capture in enemy occupied territory.

2. Further circulation of this information may be made, but in that case it is important not to divulge any details about the source.

Statement of information covering the period from 28 April 1944
to 6 August 1944

- a. Informant was told recently that there were in the S of France only three divisions of German troops. In CHER there were supposed to be almost no Germans except at BOURGES airport and some 400 at DUN sur AURON, most of them mechanics.
- b. It was suggested that the recent increase of German troops at DUN sur AURON from some 40 to some 400 was connected with some activities with reprisal weapons or V-1 in the section. The troops were mostly mechanics, very young or very old.
- c. All the Frenchmen who helped informant were most critical of American bombing, claiming that it was extremely poor. They claimed that all bombing of BOURGES except the last had been bad, killing many civilians. The last bombing of PARIS more than 2000 civilians were killed. Informant's helpers were emphatic that American bombing is the worst possible and that English bombing is good.
- d. Pursuit ships were at the airfield S of BOURGES: but the field did not seem to be very active. (Hearsay)
- e. A small airfield S of BOURGES toward CHATEAUNEUF seemed to have a great deal of activity in the last three weeks. A great many planes, possibly Me 109s, were there.
- f. Planes from the fields just mentioned seemed to be engaged either in extensive training with radar equipment or in searching for radios. Informant saw a small A/C with circular aerial above the plane and a number of aeriels projecting from the wing edge, equipment which he was convinced was DF or radar equipment.

8 August 1944

On 28 April 1944 I landed just to the E of the airfield N of AVORD. (CHER)

I ran into the woodmen N of RAYMOND, and they directed me to the Cure at SANCOINS. I went to BLET, lost my way, got down to les ESTIVAUX, and carried over to GIVARDON, coming into SANCOINS by a roundabout route. I was later told by my resistance helpers that the Germans formed a circle from AVORD and followed me as far as BLET.

The elderly man who picked me up on the S side of SANCOINS had a 20 year old son JOSEPH who on 30 April took me to the farm of his fiancée ~~near~~ between POUZY and MESZANGY (E of LURCY LEVY, Cher). The farm belonged to M Charles CLIN.

When I left there I walked past LURCY LEVY. JOSEPH picked me up before I got as far as MONTLUÇON. JOSEPH took me back to M CLIN's farm. I stayed there a total of 12 days.

On the 12th day JOSEPH brought from SANCOINS a Maquis captain named PAUL who told me that I would return to England by A/C. I had the impression that he was speaking of a repaired combat plane. About 13/15 May PAUL took me to SAUCOINS where I stayed at his house with his brother-in-law RAYMOND. The next morning he took me to a farm where I stayed the next month with M and Mme BLANCHARD, SAGONNE par SANCOINS (Cher). They have three sons, two of whom are escaped P/W. With me was a man who works on the farm, an escaped P/W staying there until the war is over. He comes from the section a bit to the N. I was instructed to stay here and informed once again that I would leave by A/C. I stayed here until 11/12 June.

On 6 June we received news of the Normandy landings, received over the regular radio. Shortly before the day I had been moved into the WC to hide, for the Germans knew that I or some Americans were in the region and had put out an extensive search. They had gone through the area NW of SANCOINS and had picked up a great many resistance men.

When I had originally gone to SANCOINS I had stopped at a farm just E of SAUGONNE to ask the farmer for water. I heard later that Lt CATER had stopped at this farm (Cf REF 827, who heard at this farm that Lt MURPHY had stopped there). This farmer was a good friend of M BLANCHARD and I told my friends that the American, who I did not realize then was CATER, ~~but I thought he was~~ member of my crew and had them search for him but they could not find him. PAUL, his brother-in-law, and a friend searched in vain.

The afternoon of 11 or 12 June PAUL and his brother-in-law took me by bicycle to PONDY. There ~~we~~ I waited in a restaurant for about six hours while PAUL searched for AUGUST GERBEAU. This gentleman appeared and took me to a farm to the NW where I stayed three days with an old man and three young Maquisards.

On 15 June I left there by horse and buggy, went to DUR sur AUERON (Cher) and drove out toward CHEZAL CHAUVIER. On the way we got out and walked into the woods. My helpers were evidently trying to keep me from knowing where I was. They took me to a farm N of St GERMAIN des B (just about the V.O. on Michelin Sheet 69, range 1:200,000), the home of M CAMILLE GERBEAU, AUGUST's brother, and a center of resistance activities. There I stayed until I left on 5 August.

The day before I arrived a tall very good looking young captain in the French intelligence service, JEAN, had arrived with a short very heavily bearded chap about 33, having been parachuted into France. To see these two men had come VICTOR, a grabichef de resistance, and one M DOIR (questionable spelling). I heard later that the Germans captured these two men in Paris. The latter was said to have been killed; the Germans were torturing the former.

<sup>which</sup> I met many resistance men here. M CAMILLE had kept over 575 men at his farm and it was the center of resistance activities. I participated in the parachutings and in their radio work, decoding messages as they instructed me.

I met GEORGES BONNET (or possibly BONNET), the grand chef de resistance in the section DUN Sur AURON (and apparently going by the codeword LeCOMTE). It was he who finally arranged my evacuation.

I met CAMILLE'S wife's brother. When he came to the farm he had literally been beaten half to death by the Milice after they had found him with a radio. For five or six days while he was there I slept in the woods carefully concealed, for the Milice were raising hell in the section.

The first radio announcement of my position was sent in by PAUL from the St AMAND radio in May. The Germans picked up the operatives in that section, and those who escaped moved to the N. (Cf the Philip of E.E. M., M. M. M.)

In July PHILIP went to LYONS to get some papers for the courier delivery. He had some difficulty and had to hide for a bit, not returning until 9 July. The weather and the failure in plans prevented the (SIS evidently) operation on the July moon period. In the meantime we were sending our regular messages. About 28 to 30 July we sent out a report telling of VICTOR and also some information on German activities with V-1 (V-2, I should guess). GEORGES BONNET visited frequently.

On 4 August we got our operational message over the BBC. That night we went to the Boid de Bouard (ENE of CHATEAUNEUF sur Cher), armed with MG's and pistols, and carrying our papers. By 0300 we had not heard the engines of our plane. The only plane that we heard come over was a German which we signalled by mistake until we realized what it was. Later we understood that the RAF had come but could not find us.

The next day our operation was on once again and BONNE (LeCOMTE), PHILIP, and another M DOIR (questionable spelling) and I went back. The plane came in at 0145. After two men got out I got in. On the way out we met some flak. Once a search light caught us. Early the morning of 6 August we landed on a field in Devon. I was there until noon. Then a Hudson brought the whole group from the four separate operations to a field near Bedford. We went to the country home of (Major of SIS), from which an RAF P/Lt in this work and a Frenchman took me to the former's place or that of a friend in London (near St James Palace) where I saw a couple of people including an English (SIS) major. Capt Windham WRIGHT picked me up there and brought me to 63 Brook street.

N.B. About 3 weeks ago I saw a town within 4 hours bicycle ride of the GERBEAU town where some 500 men, women, & children had been <sup>murdered</sup> by the Germans. I saw no body who had been crucified.
